TWO DAUGHTERS of a missing widow, Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, identify a 73-year-old "love pirate" picture in Chicago as that of the man to whom their mother gave $5,000 to bank for her after he had proposed marriage. A 48-state police alarm is out for Sigmund Z. Engel, whose romantic swindling record in the U. S. dates from 1917 and goes back to Berlin and Vienna before that. The picture, rushed from Milwaukee, Wis., to Chicago via Intercontinental News Soundphoto, is held by Detective Peter Harlid as Reseda, 19, and Orpha, 17, make the identification. After Mrs. Corrigan's disappearance, Mrs. Pauline D. Langton was swindled out of $50,000 in New York when she married a man she identified as Engel, but who posed as "Carl Laemmle, Jr." and disappeared. (International)

Tension Mounts As Leaders Held

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 21—(AP)—Church-state tension mounted today as the Communist government was reported seizing Roman Catholic opponents in Moravia.

Churchmen reported numerous clergy and prominent laymen arrested in the province, near the Austrian and Hungarian border junction.

One source reported, without confirmation, that Archbishop Josef Matocha of Olomouc, second city of Moravia, had been placed under a police watch like that maintained for the past five days over Archbishop Josef Beran of Prague.

Reports of the arrests followed a hectic weekend which saw a pastoral letter from Beran read in churches throughout the country denouncing the separatist Catholic action group sponsored by the government, and the break-up of the archbishop's sermon in Prague by Communist heckling.

The Moravian arrests were made, church sources said, to crack resistance of loyal Catholics to the separatist group. They said those arrested, whose number could not be estimated, had refused to sign pledges of allegiance to the new organization.

The Vatican, meanwhile, denounced the group as "schismatic, anti-Catholic, a Communist tool and in opposition to the Episcopate."

The supreme sacred congregation of the holy office declared voluntary membership in the organization would automatically bring excommunication to those joining. It further pronounced the (Please turn to Page Two)

Mr. and Mrs. Forest F. Tipton just missed the disastrous floods that swept down the Potomac River valley last week, but they did see some of the havoc left in their wake.

They left here just about the time the torrential rains started drenching the mountain section of West Virginia and Virginia with the nation's capital and the surrounding historic section their goal for a two-week vacation.

They plan to meet their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John Schueller of Xenia and their family near Washington, D. C. They are enroute back from Florida. The Tiptons are to remain near the capital with two of the children while Dr. and Mrs. Schueller and their son, Bill, see the sights of the seat of government.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton said before they left that they had no intention of bucking the capital crowds. Besides the capital is not exactly new to them; for, Tipton was secretary to the late Senator Frank B. Willis from Ohio.

Of the Potomac Valley flood, Tipton said in a card to the Record-Herald staff that the state police and highway patrols were keeping traffic moving along the main highways but off the roads leading to lower valleys where the disaster was worse.

Youth Is Found Guilty Of Killing Wife's Sister

Milton Babich Given Life at Hard Labor While Pregnant Wife Shouts 'Police Lies'

MILWAUKEE, June 21—(AP)—Nineteen-year-old Milton Babich was whisked off to Waupun Prison last night just 45 minutes after a jury labeled him the murderer of his wife's kid sister.

His bride, Kathleen, who is expecting a baby in mid-July, screamed out, "lies, lies—the police are telling lies," as the jury announced its verdict: Guilty of murder in the first degree.

Babich stood before the bench and declared, "I am not guilty of first degree murder."

Municipal Judge Herbert J. Steffes then sentenced him to the Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun "at hard labor for the rest of your natural life."

But under Wisconsin law, he will be eligible for parole after 20 years, or with time off for good behavior, after 11 years and three months.

His sentence was pronounced just three months to the day after the weighted body of Patricia Birmingham, 16, was fished from the Milwaukee River by firemen searching for a suicide victim.

Kathleen broke into hysterical screams and was comforted by the defendant's older brother, Victor.

Babich was not permitted to see his wife after the verdict was announced at 9:49 P. M. (CST). He changed to a dark green sports shirt and left for prison at 10:35 P. M., handcuffed to Sheriff Herman Kubiak.

He was admitted to the prison at 12:15.

Milton told the jury he picked Patricia upon her way home from school last Feb. 10. As they sat in his father's car he showed her a gun to frighten her so she couldn't tell that Kathleen was pregnant.

He said she picked it up and it went off when he grabbed for it.

He was admitted to the prison at 12:15.

Good Hope Man Being Held In Hillsboro Jail

Denver Everhart is Indicted Following Serious Crime

Denver Everhart, 39, of Good Hope who, with his half brother, served time in the penitentiary for assaulting with intent to rob Loren Andrews in Fayette County a year or more ago, is now in the Hillsboro County jail on an indictment charging him with assault with intent to rob a 100 year old woman, Mrs. Martha Gibson near Cynthiana.

Everhart was released from the penitentiary a few months ago, and the crime with which he is now charged was committed Thursday night, although Sheriff F. F. Gustin did not make it public until Tuesday, while he searched for two other men wanted in connection with the affair.

The other two men, officials said, are Oliver Carter, of Bell Hollow, and Francis (Slim) Gregg, 28, Greenfield. Sheriff Orland Hays and the police here have a pick-up order on both of these men, who are alleged to have escaped from the scene.

According to Sheriff Gustin Everhart had been working for Floyd Straley, of Good Hope, and (Please turn to Page Twelve)

$1,000 for Contract To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—Chairman Hoey (D-NC) of the Senate investigating committee announced an inquiry today into the reports of a $1,000 fee paid for help in getting government contracts.

Hoey quoted the newspaper as reporting Paul Grindle, a Massachusetts businessman, said he paid the $1,000 to James V. Hunt, "management counselor." He identified Hunt as a former lieutenant colonel in the army quartermaster corps and later an employee of the War Assets Administration.

Hoey said William P. Rogers, chief attorney for the investigating group, will "make a complete investigation of all the facts."

"It should be clearly understood the mere fact that the staff of the committee has been asked to make this investigation is in no sense a pre-judgment of any of the issues involved," Hoey added in a statement.

CROP Program Figures Show Overseas Shipment

DAYTON, June 21—(AP)—Farmers in 26 states contributed 75,668,581 pounds of food for overseas relief in the year ended June 1, officials of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) said today.

CROP Chairman John D. Metzler said this totaled 2,392 carloads of food with value of $6,596,674. The CROP program is being expanded to a country-wide basis this year.

Modernization of 2 Carriers Is Proposed by Defense Chief

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, with President Truman's approval, today proposed the modernization of two aircraft carriers at a total cost of $80,000,000.

Johnson made the announcement in departing from a prepared address to the 114 members of the graduating class of the National War College, President Truman presented the diplomas.

In his prepared speech, Johnson referred to the Soviet Union as "conspiratorial" and "despotic." He said it is because of Russia that the United States must maintain a strong military machine.

Johnson said too much trust for defense should not be placed in mere possession of the atomic bomb.

In his impromptu remarks, Johnson described the modernization of the two carriers as an answer to those who assert that by the recent cancellation of the navy's supercarrier there was a conspiracy "either to sink the navy's air arm or to reduce the navy to a second class role."

County Hospital Board Coordinate Plans Now

Action to obtain an administrator for the Fayette County Memorial Hospital was promised Monday night at the first joint meeting of the two hospital boards.

Members of board responsible for administering the hospital after it is built and equipped said they planned on making several visits to hospitals to get an insight into hospital operations.

After the visitations, the board said they hoped to be in a better position to work with the other board—which is in charge of equipping and building the hospital—in screening applicants and picking an administrator.

The operating board made up of Willard Bitzer, Sam Parrett, George Campbell and Herbert Hoppes was appointed recently by the county commissioners. It takes over officially after the hospital is completed, but was named ahead of time so it could coordinate its plans with the help of the building board.

The building board of Ralph Nisley, George Pensyl, Colin Campbell and Howard Burnett was appointed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Its function is to get the building constructed and ready for use. When it turns over the keys to the operating board its work is finished.

Joint agreement was reached between the two boards on an important matter—namely, picking a man or woman now who can act as a consultant while the hospital is being equipped.

Then, board members pointed out, the consultant can automatically take over as administrator.

Reorganization Given Support

President's Program Appeals to Congress

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—Congressional leaders today sought a way of approving President Truman's seven new plans to reorganize government agencies without keeping Congress in session until August 20.

Under the reorganization law passed last week, the proposals Mr. Truman submitted yesterday normally would not become effective until they had been before Congress 60 days without being rejected by either House.

The most important of the president's proposals would set up a department of welfare headed by a cabinet-rank official. The other plans involve the bureau of employment security, postoffice department, two national security agencies, Civil Service Commission, Maritime Commission and Public Roads Administration.

Senate and House leaders are aiming to avoid the waiting period. Their assumption is Congress may be ready to adjourn before mid-August. If it does so without taking some unusual step to provide for the reorganization plans, they would have to be submitted again next year.

Three proposals have been offered by various lawmakers: The first calls for passage of a resolution stating the seven projects are to go into effect after 60 days regardless of whether Congress is meeting.

Under another, a handful of Senators and representatives would hold Congress technically in session during the 60-day veto period.

A third plan, proposed by Senator McClellan (D-Ark.), calls for the immediate introduction of resolution to veto the seven plans. Upon their defeat, McClellan says, the plans could take effect.

There was little expectation any of the reorganization proposals would run into much trouble, since they closely follow the recommendations of the bi-partisan commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Hero of Popular Ballad Returned for Burial

FREMONT, June 21—(AP)—The body of Pvt. Rodger W. Young is coming home. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Young have been informed by the defense department that the body of their son, who was awarded the congressional medal of honor after being killed in heroic action against the Japanese on New Georgia Island, is enroute to the United States for burial.

Advisory Board Findings Indicate Rent Control Still Needed Here

The Washington C. H. Rent Advisory Board is still convinced of the need for rent control in this city after a meeting Monday afternoon with Gene Smith, the area rent representative.

George Campbell, chairman of the board, said that although rent control has been eliminated in the rural areas of Fayette County it was still definitely needed in Washington C. H.

To illustrate this need, Campbell pointed out that recently a landlord advertised a large unfurnished apartment for rent and had 47 calls in one hour, before he took the phone off the hook.

Campbell also said that last month $170 was returned to tenants in Washington C. H. who had been overcharged illegally. Unofficial reports, he added, indicated there were many other similar cases where the tenants were afraid to report over-charging because of the threat of eviction.

During the meeting Monday afternoon, the board issued a blanket invitation to any tenant who thinks he is over-charged to call on the area representative and make a claim.

The area rent representative is in Washington C. H. every Wednesday morning from 9 A. M. until noon to handle claims. His office is in the Armory here.

According to the representative, a tenant cannot be evicted for putting in a claim with the rent control office. He said any tenants making such claims will be fully protected by law. However, he added, unless a claim is made, the advisory board can not take any action.

While the five-man board discussed general adjustment policies, it emphasized that it represented both the tenant and the landlord.

Campbell said major emergency (Please turn to Page Two)

Peace in Germany Pledged at Confab

Blockade Won't Be Reimposed Russians Say After Paris Meet

PARIS, June 21—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers ended four weeks debate last night with a pledge for East-West peace in Germany and general agreement on an Austrian independence treaty.

The following results were announced: A six-point statement of principles to guide negotiations in Germany. This featured a Russian promise not to reimpose a blockade of Berlin, in return for efforts to revive East-West trade in the former Reich.

A joint communique announcing a series of agreements on the outstanding issues in the Austrian treaty and instructing the deputies to wrap up the document by Sept. 1.

Agreement among the four ministers to maintain contact and hold another meeting in New York next fall during the United Nations general assembly.

An American deputy, Samuel Reber, told newsmen he was confident the four powers would agree on an Austrian text in time for the fall session, when it presumably would be adopted and the allies would pull their forces out of Austria.

The way toward Austrian agreement was cleared after the west met the $150,000,000 Soviet claim on Austria for German assets and Russia dropped her support of Yugoslav claims on Austria.

On Germany the four nations were less definite. They acknowledged they had failed to reunify the country politically and economically, but promised to try and do better in the future.

They pledged themselves not only to encourage inter-zonal trade and commerce in Germany but also to facilitate the movement of persons, and information.

They also agreed, according to French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, to respect each other's political set-ups, even though they do not agree with them.

The conference had a hectic ending when Russia sought unsuccessfully to make a last-minute change in the big four's communique.

As U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin prepared to leave for their home capitals, word came Russia's Andrei Vishinsky wanted the communique held up and a new meeting called.

It seemed Vishinsky had been reprimanded by Moscow for one point on the Austrian treaty regarding oil profits.

After a hurried session at the French foreign office, it was decided to take up the point through diplomatic channels and the ministers left.

Austrians were jubilant when they heard the news about their independence treaty.

In Vienna, Chancellor Leopold Figl said the big four decision is "a big step toward peace and the freedom of humanity."

In Berlin, Col. W. T. Babcock, U. S. deputy commandant, said the big four had "opened the door" toward a solution of the city's knottiest problems.

The award will be used for study next year at the Agriculture Department in Washington. Miss Rhonemus was graduated from Miami University in 1944.

Equalization Of Valuations Being Sought

Public Confidence Lost in Utilities Commission, Claim

BY REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, June 21—(AP)—Representatives girded for battle over a proposal to equalize real property valuations throughout Ohio for taxation. The House postponed action on the bill last week and made it a special order of business today.

The proposal seeks broad powers for the state Board of Tax Appeals. It says the board shall order realty assessed at true value by taxing districts. Failure to comply or make adjustments carries a stiff penalty. The board must order half the local government and school funds withheld from counties and taxing districts that do not comply.

Counties and school districts with high tax duplicates complain they help support low-duplicate areas. They want valuations equalized to assure even responsibility. Representatives from low valuation counties plan to fight the proposal.

PUC Under Fire
Some state representatives last night claimed the Ohio Public Utilities Commission has lost the public's faith.

They made the charges and voted to kill a bill proposing virtual lifetime jobs for commission attorney-examiners.

"I'm opposed to giving these employees a lifetime job," said Rep. Robert W. Reider (D-Ottawa), "I find in the minds of the public there is a feeling that there is something wrong with the commission, something wrong with the commission employees and something wrong with the present utilities law."

Reider is author of resolution asking a legislative investigation of the commission. The House sent the resolution to its reference committee Monday night. That committee will assign it to a standing committee hearing.

Rep. Ray C. Carpenter (R-Seneca) had this to say: "The reputation of the Public Utilities Commission is not held very highly by the public."

Sponsor J. E. Simpson (R-Hardin) said representatives placed a "wrong interpretation" on his proposal. It was killed by tabling, the vote was 59-35.

Rent Control Issue
A Democrat senator has asked the Legislature to end federal rent control in Ohio.

Sen. William M. Boyd (D-Cuyahoga) introduced a bill Monday night to remove rent ceilings throughout the state next Oct. 1.

The new rent law passed by Congress lets states remove controls, Boyd said. He declined to predict the chances for his proposal. Officials in the housing expediter's office here could not be reached for comment.

Gov. Lausche previously indicated rent controls should be retained for some time. Boyd in a prepared statement said he found no shortage of homes for families or rooms for single people.

The Senate finance committee began hearings on the biennial budget bill, key legislation to adjournment. With the General Assembly in its 25th week, lawmakers looked longingly towards vacations. No date for quitting is in sight.

Administration leaders pressed for speedy budget hearings. Sen. Cline Jackson (D-Mahoning), finance committee chairman, indicates he won't be rushed. The bill approved by the House carries $646,000,000 to run the state for two years starting July 1.

Senators passed a bill aimed at hotels and establishments operating more than two bars at the same location. Separate liquor licenses will be required for each additional bar under the proposal by Sen. William M. Boyd (D-Cuyahoga). The vote was 25-4. That sent it to the House.

Sen. Howard M. Metzbaum (D-Cuyahoga) attempted to insert a requirement for each bar to have a license. The amendment lost.

Passed and sent to the House was a bill to require written reports of auto accidents if people are hurt or property damage runs $100. The highway department gets the confidential reports. The vote was 23-3.

County Nurses Organize Here

Mrs. Vernon Benroth Is First President

Mrs. Vernon Benroth is the first president of the Fayette County Nurses' Association today, following an organizational meeting Monday evening at the roadside park near Johnson's Crossing.

Although it was the second meeting of the group, the first session, which was held last month, was an informal get-together and the association did not become an actual organization until Monday.

Twenty-three of the 37 registered nurses in Fayette County were at the picnic meeting to choose the group's first official family.

Besides Mrs. Benroth, other officers are Mrs. Richard Gillen, vice president; Mrs. Marvin Roszmann, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Shaper, treasurer.

Mrs. Neil Helfrich took charge of the meeting, before the elections. The session got under way at 7 P. M. with the picnic dinner being held before the business session.

During the business meeting, the nominating committee gave its report on the proposed officials. The committee consisted of Mrs. Dana Hyer, Mrs. Malcolm Dorn and Mrs. Howard Somers.

Besides the election of officers, the group also made plans for the future and decided to hold regular monthly meetings. It then discussed the purposes of the organization and the officers decided to meet in the near future to draw up a constitution.

Although there is a national organization, the American Nurses Association, which is organized through the state and district, the Fayette County group postponed a decision on whether or not to join the national group until they are better organized.

In charge of the picnic, which was a hamburger fry, was a committee including Miss Gretchen Darlington, Mrs. Gillen and Mrs. Benroth.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lee Rowe, July 18.

Rent Control Board

cy reports which necessitated new costs by the owner are taken into consideration by the board, thus resulting in some upward rent adjustments.

He said the three main reasons for eviction were: failure to pay rent, undesirable tenants and notice to vacate because the owner wished to occupy the residence.

In discussing rent raises for repairs, Campbell said the board checks the property against the income of the owner, looks over the residence facilities and determines whether they are adequate and if not, the necessary costs of repair. As a result of the board's survey, Campbell added, the tenant's rent may either be upped, or the landlord may be told his raise is unjustified.

In either case, he stressed, the board protects the tenant from eviction merely because the claim was brought to the board's attention. He said the board also investigates all cash kick-backs which are reported to them.

In one such case, the board chairman said, a tenant living in Washington C. H. and using his own furnishings was told by the owner that the landlord would install a gas range and ice box.

The tenant put in a claim when the equipment turned out to be in such poor condition that it was unusable, while the tenant already owned new equipment which was in much better condition. The landlord, however, asked for a $15 per month raise in rent.

According to Campbell, the board investigated and found the owner had no right to collect additional rent for such action.

Besides the regular board members, C. E. McCarley, incoming Chamber of Commerce secretary, also was present.

Members of the board are Campbell, Earl Dunaway, Bernard Witherspoon, Frank Thatcher and Fred Rost.

Youth Hit On Head When in New Holland

George Morris, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Morris, of Washington C. H., sustained a severe gash and contusion over his right eye Monday night about 11 P. M. when he allegedly was struck with some object in the hands of a nightwatchman in New Holland.

After he was injured Morris drove back here where the wound was dressed by Dr. Clarence Hayes. He was sent home afterwards.

Morris said he was sitting in his automobile at the curb talking with two friends, when the night watchman, whose name he did not know, came up to the car and struck him across the forehead.

Morris said that he grabbed a baseball bat out of the car and started after the night watchman, who pulled a gun and forced him to back up to his car.

It was stated by Morris that apparently the attack Monday night was due to some altercation he had with the watchman Saturday night, regarding his driving. He also stated that he did not know whether he would file charges in connection with the assault.

Inquiry at New Holland brought the information that Virgil Fannon is night watchman there, but Fannon could not be reached for a statement regarding the affair.

Hospital Boards

trator when the hospital is ready to start operation.

Public Law Provisions
Under provisions of a public law the administrative board for the hospital cannot select its administrator until the hospital is ready for occupancy.

However, the administrative board can consult with the building board in obtaining a consultant, with the agreement that he or she will become the hospital administrator when the hospital is ready for operation.

Complete harmony between the two boards is considered necessary to insure that the switch over from a building operation to a management operation is made effectively.

And it is vitally important that the hospital administrator be familiar with the equipment that goes into the hospital, Dr. Anthony J. Barowsky, chief of the hospital facility department for the state Health Department told board members Monday night.

Administrator Needed Now
Dr. Barowsky said the administrator moved from his body in which he was placed following a serious injury after being struck by an automobile here several weeks ago.

Extended five-day Ohio weather forecast.

The temperature will average 3-6 degrees above normal. Normal maximum 80. Normal minimum 60. No major change. Precipitation will average one quarter inch with scattered showers to night or Wednesday and again Friday or Saturday.

trator could help immeasurably in obtaining thousands of items of equipment which were approved by the hospital boards and the doctors who will work in the hospital.

Since the newly named administrative board does not officially assume its duties until the hospital has been completed, the board of county hospital trustees of Fayette County will have to pay the administrator for carrying out consulting duties until the hospital opens.

It will draw money for this purpose from its contingency building fund, it was pointed out.

After this, it was indicated, the administrative board must decide what the administrator's salary will be.

Curtis Insko, of Insko, Brand and Insko, Columbus architects for the project, reported to board members that the hospital was nearly 25 per cent complete.

Also present at the Monday night meeting was George Fishback, assistant to Dr. Barowsky, and Mrs. J. H. Persinger and James E. Rose, who represented the Fayette County Medical Society.

Members of the building board who were present included Ralph Nisley, Colin Campbell, George Pensyl and Howard W. Burnett.

Those present from the administrative board, which was appointed June 7, were Willard Bitzer, Sam Parrett and George W. Campbell.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, June 21—(P)—Step by step, education in this country is beginning to feel the pressure of the national concern about Communism.

As the pressure grows, inside and outside the schools themselves, angry arguments become intense over this question:

How far can academic freedom—freedom to teach and search for truth—be interfered with without damaging, terrorizing or destroying it?

Here are some examples of recent events:

1. Several professors were fired from the University of Washington for being members of the Communist party.

2. The University of California has ordered its 4,000 teachers to take a new oath of loyalty to the United States.

3. A week ago 20 top educators—including General Dwight Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard, issued a report which said:

Members of the Communist party should not be employed as teachers.

The reasoning behind those three steps was this: a Communist party member has no academic freedom anyway; he surrendered intellectual honesty when he joined the party and now, sheep-like, does what it tells him.

But all three steps dealt with the teaching done by teachers, not with what teachers did outside a classroom. Now that element has been added.

In a sharp letter to President Conant of Harvard—who says Communist teachers shouldn't be hired—Frank B. Ober, who graduated from Harvard in 1913 and now is a Baltimore lawyer, said: "Anyone familiar with Communist methods knows that most of the damage from teachers is done outside the classroom, made possible by the influence gained in the classroom."

"Similarly, I believe a professor's efforts to aid Communists gain greatly from his prestige as a professor, and it is not reasonable to close one's eyes to such extracurricular activities."

Ober is the father of the anti-Communist law recently passed by the Maryland Legislature. In his letter he complained bitterly about two Harvard professors, Harlow Shapley, who teaches astronomy, and John Ciardi, who teaches English composition.

Ciardi, he said, spoke at a Maryland meeting of Henry Wallace's Progressive Party, to fight the anti-Communist law sponsored by Ober; Shapley, he said, spoke at the New York meeting of the "cultural and scientific conference for world peace" where this country's foreign policy was attacked.

Ober wants Harvard to set up its own loyalty program. He said: "The test of a professor's actions ought not to be whether he can be actually proved guilty of a crime. Reasonable grounds to doubt his loyalty to our government should disqualify him, for the position is one of trust, and the government has, if it chooses to exercise it, regulatory power over education."

Conant answered briefly that Harvard's long tradition of letting its professors act as private citizens will remain unchanged.

Harvard "believes that the members of the faculties, in their capacity as citizens, have the same rights to express themselves as other citizens, and that those rights should not be restricted by the university by trying to keep a 'watch' on professors."

Meanwhile, the House un-American activities stuck its fingers into education and ran into hot trouble. The chairman, Rep. Woods, Georgia Democrat, had written a letter to a number of schools and colleges.

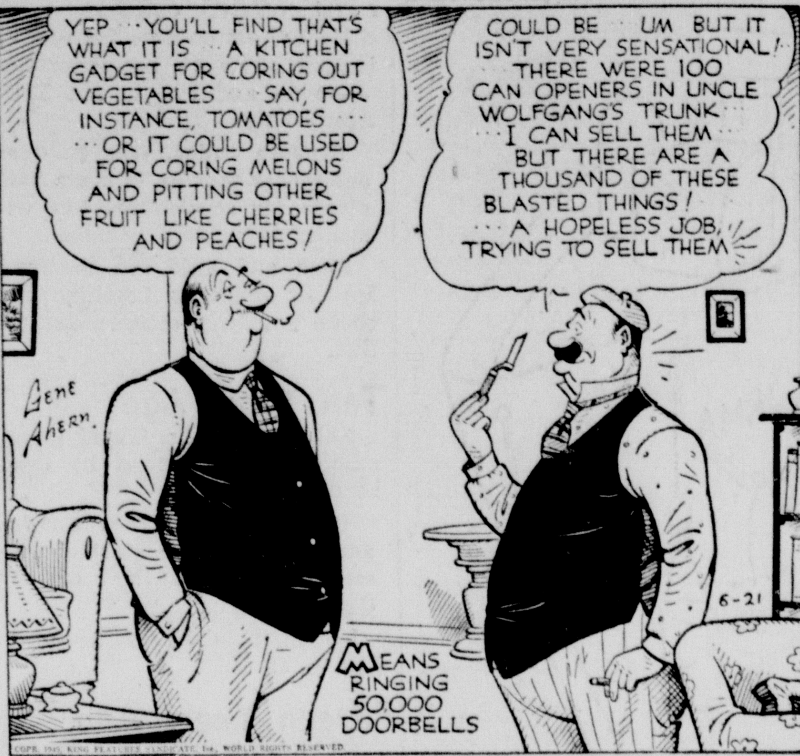

In it he asked for a list of text books used by the schools. His committee wanted to see whether the books were slanted in favor of Russia. Immediately, some of the most important educators denounced this interference in education by the committee.

The committee has been given an editorial scorching, President Truman cracked at it, and now five of the nine committee members said they weren't even consulted about the letter Woods sent out.

Do You Really Want to Take Off Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Hitherto it has been maintained that political beliefs are not a proper consideration in connection with hiring or retaining a teacher, that to make the holding or rejection of certain political beliefs a requisite to a teaching job is to destroy a part of the freedom of education. Communism is a political belief, but most Americans hold a belief that it is more than a political belief. It is regarded by many nations as a dominating force which destroys freedom. Hence the conclusion of this commission of educators

No one looking at the current Washington scene can avoid the realization that in the shaping of sound domestic policy, the Senate and the nation are invariably impressed with the strength of Taft's position. He does not shut his eyes to the facts in the interest of theory, nor does he permit himself to compromise with principles where fundamental issues are involved. When the Senate finishes its consideration of the proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley Act, you can be sure that the imprint of Taft's thinking probably will be evident in every phrase.

Automatic Heat Tops In Home Convenience

First among the conveniences of the modern American home is automatic heat.

The choice of an economical and dependable heating plant is one of the most important decisions facing any homemaker. For heat is not a luxury—it's a basic necessity in the same class with food, shelter and clothing.

A wise choice of a heating system can bring years of comfort and happiness. An unfortunate investment can be a constant source of annoyance and expense.

Better living can be a part of every homemaker's budget. The home, center of family life, is clean, comfortable for everyone with automatic oil heat. Home owners everywhere are turning to Sohio oil heat for their No. 1 convenience.

Any type house can use it and any size purse can afford it! And oil heat is entirely automatic. It's the most satisfactory answer to modern heating needs!

Increased comfort with automatic oil heat means increased value in your property. Renting or selling a home with automatic oil heat offers greater inducement to good prospects.

Oil heat saves time because the oil burner is thermostatically controlled so that the house is kept at just the right temperature by day and by night. There is no need to get up early in the morning to do basement drudgery. An oil burner does not smoke or create smudge on the walls since oil burns up completely and is absolutely clean.

There is no fuel dirt to track through the house from the basement, so the entire house stays cleaner.

The basement itself is easily kept clean with automatic oil heat.

An oil burner does not require daily attention by the home owner since there is nothing to empty and nothing to handle. Backaches and headaches vanish with automatic oil heat.

The first cost of automatic oil heat is low based upon the yearly heating cost, since thousands of installations are still giving excellent service after 15 or 20 years of constant use.

Oil heat is not a luxury. Oil heat provides even temperatures throughout the home and eliminates cold spots.

Oil heat is safe. You can extinguish a burning torch in a bucket of fuel oil since fuel oil will not burn until it has been properly vaporized and atomized in the oil burning equipment.

Oil gives a hot flame instantly and there is no waiting for the fire to come up.

With fuel oil for your supply you are not dependent upon outside pressures or agencies and each gallon of fuel oil contains the same high heat content.

Quiet and odor-free, today's oil burner is virtually silent and burns without smoke and without odor.

Today, because of the billions of dollars invested by the oil industry in new wells and refineries, there is a plentiful supply of fuel oil.

Sohio heat marketed by the Standard Oil Company of Ohio and delivered by tank wagon to your tank on a schedule so that you will never run out, is especially made for home oil burners. It is not a by-product but is manufactured for this specific purpose just as are Sohio gasoline and motor oil for their purposes.

Sohio heat is always uniform, free from impurities, has a high carbon content which means a high BTU content and is marked by a low pour point and a safe flash point.

Two Couples Share Honors At Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. T. Harold Craig and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Strevey were guests of honor when members of a bridge club which has been in existence for the past 18 years, to which Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Strevey belong, included their husbands at a beautifully appointed dinner, complimenting the Craigs and Streveys on their silver wedding anniversaries, at the Washington Country Club on Monday evening. Pink rambler roses in profusion made up the floral decoration on the long table seating the group for the tempting two course dinner. Later members of the club, Mrs. Robert Craig, Mrs. J. Earl Gidding, Mrs. Howard S. Harper, Mrs. Clarence Ford, and Mrs. J. Roush Burton presented the honor guests with handsome silver bon bon dishes. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker were included as guests and the evening was spent in informal games of bridge and visiting.

Class Members Entertained At Spengler Home

Members of the Crusaders Class of the First Christian Church were entertained on Monday evening at the home of Mr. Wayne Spengler, near Bloomingburg, for the June business meeting.

A wiener roast and tasty picnic supper preceded the business session, conducted by Miss Juanita Tigner. Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Spengler assisted their son in the congenial hospitality and as a surprise to the group served home-made ice cream and cake.

Devotionals for the evening were led by Ronald Merritt. The class suggested a dedication service for the new bulletin board recently purchased and discussed plans for the ice cream booth which is sponsored each year at the Fayette County Fair.

Informal visiting added to the evening's pleasures.

Class Entertains Church Members At Lovely Event

Members of the Mound Builders Class of the Madison Mills Church, their families and members of the congregation, numbering about 50, enjoyed a delightful picnic held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Allemang.

Later a regular business session of the class was held and was presided over by Mrs. W. H. Melvin. The opening hymn, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," was followed with Scripture reading by Mr. Homer Wilson from the fifth chapter of Matthew. Mrs. Homer Wilson conducted the lesson study, and the hymn "Where He Leads Me" closed the worship period.

A lengthy discussion resulted in final plans being made for a fish fry to be held at the Madison Mills School on August 11 and committees named for the event will be headed by Mrs. H. W. Melvin, general chairman. The usual reports were heard and the meeting closed with the hymn, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and praying.

The members and guests lingered for a period of informal visiting.

In making a white sauce melt the fat in a saucepan, then remove from the heat before adding the flour. Now add cold milk gradually, with the saucepan still off the heat, stirring as you do so. After all the milk has been added continue to stir well until there are no more lumps. A whisk is excellent to use for the stirring, but if you do not have one use a wooden spoon. A half teaspoon of salt is usually plenty for two cups of the sauce.

A BEAUTIFUL FATHER
Such a beautiful, beautiful father,
And you, I know would scarcely think
That he is fair at all.
I've looked on father whose form and hue
A sculptor's dream might be.
Yet are those aged and wrinkled
brows
More beautiful to me.

Such a beautiful, beautiful father
Though his heart was weary and sad,
Though patient father kept toiling
on,
That the children might be glad
I always weep as looking back
To childhood's distant day
I think how father rested not
When we were at our play.

Such a beautiful, beautiful father
He's growing feeble now.
For time and pain have left their mark
Upon his worried brow.
Alas, alas, the nearing time
And the sad, sad day to me
Beneath the daisies, out of sight
My father sleeps peacefully.

But oh beyond this shadow land
Where all is fair and bright
I know full well, my father dear
Will pass of victory bear.
Where crystal streams through Endless years flow over golden sands

And where the old grow young again
I'll clasp my father's hand.

Marine Corps Changes Rules

Enlistments Return To Former Standards

Marine Corps enlistments for qualified men from 17 to 29 will re-open July 1, according to Master Sergeant Ernest E. Smith, of the Chillicothe Recruiting Office.

Sgt. Smith said that since March 1, the Marine Corps has only been accepting 18-year-old men for a special one year enlistment.

He said the accepted applicants will have a choice of a three or four year enlistment, although the one year term will be continued for 18-year-olds.

Marine Corps veterans may enlist for a two-year period, according to the sergeant.

Sgt. Smith pointed out that applicants for their first enlistment must be under 29 years of age, but that any man discharged from the Marine Corps since August 1945 may deduct his time of service from his present age. If the adjusted age is under 32, he can meet the requirements.

The sergeant also said enlistments in the Women Marines will continue as in the past. Thus, women between their 20 and 31 birthdays may apply.

Both men and women accepted for the Marines are trained at Parris Island, South Carolina, before being assigned to other duty. Applicants from Fayette County can get further information from Sgt. Smith at the American Legion Hall Mondays between 1 and 3 P. M. or in Chillicothe at the VFW building.

Nevada is the sixth state in area in the U. S. but its population is smaller than that of any other state.

Good Business Begins To Show Some Weakness

Living Standards
And Income High;
Profits Slipping

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, June 21—(AP)—We've built the walls high in the last 30 years hoping to ward off another depression. Now some fear these attempts to build security have brought along with them new potential weaknesses.

Government leaders hope the new safeguards, born of 1920-21 and the sad 1930's, will work this time. But some business leaders see new cracks appearing. And sometimes cracks can widen very fast. Here are some they see:

We've built our standards of living to new high levels, well above daily needs, and that's good. And we've built individual incomes to new high for more people than ever before; and that's good.

But that means now we have the greatest margin of "discretionary buying" we've ever known—all those gadgets, big and little, that you buy simply because you want them, and not because you must have them. Therefore, a larger percentage of your expenditures than ever before can be cut off at any time you like. If all of you did that at once, it would give the economy quite a jolt.

Back 30 years ago, a greater portion of most people's income had to be spent at once for food, shelter and clothing. People went on spending as long as they had a job and any money left.

Discretion Used
This time, a number of people have decided to wait and see where prices go on many of these "discretionary products." That's why business has sluffed off in many lines, while staying pretty good in others, such as the food business.

For another thing, wages are much higher now than 30 years ago. That's fine for the individual wage earner. It's good for the country, too, because it means there is greater purchasing power to buy up the products of industry.

But there's a hitch in this one, also, in the view of the National City Bank of New York. It says in its June review wages have gone so much higher than productivity—output per man-hour—that many a business has a break-even point dangerously high for meeting any slump in sales.

During the boom, when wages and other costs increased, most companies did all right, because their sales soared also. True, they had to sell an enormous amount of goods to break even—to pay the costs of doing business. Yet, they sold so many goods that they not only broke even, but made a handsome profit in most cases—a profit so large in dollars because sales were so heavy.

Worm Is Turning
Now, as sales volume drops, and costs and wages stay high, some of these companies may no longer break even. They are geared to boom production only. A small

A PRETTY GIRL and an unusual bathing suit make a pleasing combination as Barbara Freking poses on the beach at Del Mar, Calif., in an unusual swim suit made from leopard skin. (International) percentage drop in sales means red ink.

There's still a third potential crack in the security wall. Shoe-string businesses sprang up since the war because it was so easy to sell, so hard to fail. And firms with a small but profitable business before the war over-expanded to take advantage of the boom conditions of the last three years.

These, in large part, are the ones now swelling the bankruptcy lists. The callous may say if the inefficient ones go under, the economy will be just as well off without them. But each failure can bring its shock to those nearby. Distrust is a contagious disease.

A fourth potential weak spot is high taxation. True, much of the security wall we have been building rests on these taxes—the wall of social security insurance, farm price support, mortgage insurance, deposit insurance, government building programs, and the like.

These taxes were bearable when passed along in the years of soaring sales, prices and profits. But not when they help to keep up prices which scare customers away. And not when they are fixed taxes, as apart from flexible income taxes, that help keep the break-even point uncomfortably high.

Also, taxes have been blamed for keeping investors from financing business operations, so that industries have had to finance expansion out of profits, or by borrowing from banks and insurance companies.

None of this means, business observers point out, that the potential weak spots necessarily will undermine the security wall. It just means that there they are, and we'd better watch them.

Ever Figure This Out? Vice Comeback Causes Concern

It Takes More Work To Furnish House Now Than 10 Years Ago, Statistics Show

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, June 21—(AP)—Money you make working one hour brings 15 percent less today than it did in 1939 when you buy house furnishings with it. That's because in this line prices have gone up faster since 1939 than wage rates.

But you really get a break over the factory worker who, on the average hourly pay in 1914 took a bride. An hour's work now brings 100 percent more in the house furnishings store than it did in 1914. These goods cost you more in cash, but less in the sweat of the brow now than they did in the good old days.

Take one item. If you got married in 1914, you had to work 154 hours at the average factory pay then to get the $38.13 needed for a two-piece parlor suite of imitation mahogany in panne plush upholstery.

If you get married today you work 116 hours to pay for $171.23 two-piece set, a sofa and club chair, made of hardwood with a walnut finish and high-pile upholstery.

But those who married in 1939 did all right—with a two-piece living room set, that is. It cost $59.40, or only 82 hours of labor. It was much worse in 1929, when dad paid $111.10 for a similar suite after working 189 hours to get the money.

The figures on the average hourly earnings of the factory worker come from the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The prices of house furnishings come from mail-order catalogs for the years 1914, 1929, 1939 and 1948.

Researchers for the National Industry Conference Board put the two sets of figures together. They chose house furnishings of like quality and durability in the four years, but occasionally chose the next best thing—today's refrigerator had to be compared with 1914's icebox. The modern item costs 823 percent more than the old icebox, or $216.95 against $26.35, but most housewives appear to think its worth the difference.

The average annual house furnishings bill of today's moderate-income family takes 82 hours of work to pay. What a similar family bought in 1914 took 95 hours to labor. If you bought now only what you thought sufficient back in 1914 it would cost you the equivalent of only 48 hours of labor. Or put it the other way. If you had lived on the same scale of comfort in 1914 as today you would have had to work 159 hours to buy that much furniture, even at those low prices.

Warehouse Emptied By Robbers Again

LORAIN, June 21—(AP)—A truck loaded with $3,000 worth of groceries disappeared from a warehouse over the weekend. Police in Cleveland found the truck today—empty.

It was the third time in a year robbers had struck at the Lee and Cady Co., wholesale grocers. The first time, they took a small amount of money and groceries. The second time, they hauled away a safe containing about $1,000. The empty safe later was found on a vacant lot in Cleveland.

Conditions Worst In 9 Years, Claim

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

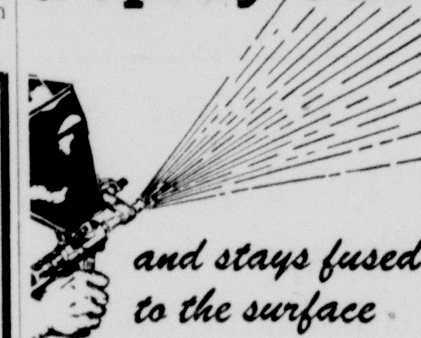

NEW YORK, June 21—(AP)—Commercialized prostitution is returning in many U. S. cities and towns, especially smaller ones, says the Journal of Social Hygiene. Brought under fairly good control during the war, the record now is the worst in the last nine years, adds the report by the American Social Hygiene Association.

More than half of 213 communities in 42 states and Alaska studied last year were "unsatisfactory with relation to prostitution," it said. Most of them were close to military bases.

Generally speaking, the larger cities have held the line against the prostitution racket. Better police systems, better courts and more highly organized public opinion and action groups, especially the social hygiene societies, have built strong bulwarks.

ments over 20 and 40 years ago, the report continues.

"Extensive red light districts have been eliminated. Brothels formerly harbored 10 to 20 inmates. Today they seldom have more than five, often only two, in many instances but one.

"Panderers now operate circumspectly. Streetwalkers, too, are far less numerous and much more clandestine in their operations. The modern counterparts of the sexually promiscuous females who paraded their activities in the saloons of prewar days and in the speakeasies of the prohibition era, work in a more covert manner now.

"This is not only because they fear detection and arrest, but also because proprietors of present day

DP&L and Hughey Post Take Easy Victories

DP&L and Hughey Legion showed plenty of power Monday evening as they both won their ends of the twin bill in the all-summer league at Wilson Field by taking a 10-run lead at the end of five innings.

In the week's opener, DP&L literally knocked Armbrust all over the field as they smothered Jenkins, the losing pitcher, under a barrage of 14 hits and 17 runs.

At the same time, Jake Reno, the winning hurler, pitched a neat five-hitter allowing only three runs to cross the plate as he handcuffed Armbrust and kept the final result a "sure thing."

Although Armbrust took the lead at the end of the first inning as the losers tallied twice when DP&L scored once, Armbrust was held scoreless from then until the fifth frame, by which time it was trailing by 14 runs.

On the mound, Reno struck out six and had perfect control, while Jenkins struck out three and walked two.

Extra-base blows were all hit by the winners. They included a double by Mallow, a triple by Lawrence and a four-bagger by F. Reno.

It was the second victory against one defeat for DP&L and the second loss against one victory for Armbrust.

Fight For Title Well Balanced

Ezz and Jersey Joe Rated About Even

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO, June 21—(P)—For the first time since Joe Louis cornered the heavyweight boxing market 12 years ago and whipped all comers, a real even-Stephen contest for the title has shaped up in the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott scrap tomorrow night.

Although the bout has been dubbed the "slim pickins'" heavyweight championship, it sincerely presents two fired-up contestants who are not afraid of each and appear evenly matched.

Louis, before he retired and tossed up his crown for the Charles-Walcott winner, always was an overwhelming favorite who usually came through right on schedule in cut-and-dried fashion.

About the nearest he came to being dismantled was by Walcott in December of 1947. Jersey Joe floored him and carried the attack through 15 rounds only to lose a decision which still is mighty controversial.

Walcott, the 35-year-old family man from Camden, N. J., and 27-year-old Charles, unmarried Cincinnati slugger who has lost only four times in eight years, are expected to enter the ring at odds of about 6-5, take your pick.

A definite swing to Walcott has been reported with the present odds dropping from 7-5 to 13-10 for Ezz, indicating Jersey Joe's late support probably will send the two Negro heavies together at even money.

Charles' youth is being upheld by his backers as his most decisive edge. Those who favor Walcott like his weight advantage of 195 pounds to Ezz's 180.

Walcott's only fighting in the last year has been done in exhibitions. Charles has been busy laying the light-heavy ranks which he dominated to knockout such 200-pounders as Joe Baksi and Johnny Haynes.

Five-Hitter Gives Tigers First Win

The Tigers overwhelmed the Indians in the junior high division of the Knothole League during Monday's opener as they banged out 13 hits for a 19-8 victory.

Forsythe pitched a neat five-hitter in holding the losers to eight runs while his team mates put the game on ice in the third with a seven-run rally. The Indians tied the game in the second, but after the big third, were left in the dust.

Bill Howerton paced the attack with five for five, including a circuit blow, two doubles and a pair of singles.

Charlie Stanceau was the winner, although being touched for 13 hits.

The Columbus-Toledo match was the only game scheduled last night. A full slate is on tap tonight.

Hole-in-One Made After Eye Injured

SHARON, Pa., June 21—(P)—Youngstown golfer Al Thomas yesterday joined the hole-in-one club at the Tam O'Shanter course. Thomas suffered an injury a few minutes before his ace when his tee shot on No. 14 hole hit a tree, bounced back and hit him below the right eye. Four holes later he used his No. 2 iron and made the 162-yard No. 18 hole in one.

"Maybe I better play them all with a black eye," said Thomas.

Total meat consumption in the United States in 1948 was about 21.3 billion pounds.

Lower Prices Viewed As Aid For Business

'Loss Leader' Plan As Customer Bait Meets Criticism

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, June 21—(AP)—Various ways in which businessmen are meeting the stress of price adjustment are shown in a number of items today.

Their efforts are given point by the Federal Reserve Board's report that as late as March, at any rate, the public not only had the money to buy but the will to buy—at prices lower than it was then being offered. The board thinks 1949 could be about as good a sales year as 1948, given attractive prices and proper salesmanship.

Here are how some industries are preparing for this summer: Tire people expect to sell 19-152 replacement passenger car tires during every selling hour of July and August, their peak months. The business research department of B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, Ohio, estimates that the industry will sell two million more replacement units at retail this year than in 1948. More cars on the road, plus the inducement of recent tire price cuts, will turn the trick, it thinks.

Price adjustments in the oil industry are in the news, too. Demand for Pennsylvania grade crude oil is rising, says the South Penn Oil Co., and so the price of lubricants is being boosted 13 to 16 cents a barrel. This is a readjustment after price cuts of as much as $2.04 a barrel since December.

Investigation Coming
But recent hikes in gasoline prices, while oil production was being curtailed, are going to be looked into by the Senate banking committee.

Airlines continue to offer lower prices for some services. The one in the news today is a tourist-class air service all the way around South America offered by Pan American World Airways and Pan American-Grace Airways. The fare will be as much as 25 percent below first class rates. You can make the entire trip for $855 and have a year to do it.

A mid-west stove manufacturer offers 11 new models, priced from $89.95 to $199.95. The Detroit-Michigan Stove Co. says it has a new method of construction, which it calls the skyscraper type, enabling it to cut costs.

Zinc producers lure customers today with another price cut of a half cent a pound. You can buy zinc now for nine cents, and that's 8 1/2 cents less than it cost you March 23.

Customer Lure
But the "loss leader" practice of some grocery stores to attract shoppers is a target for the general counsel for the National Association of Retail Grocers. He urges members meeting in Chicago to try to get all the states to put "anti-loss leader" laws on their books. All but 20 have them now. A "loss-leader" is an item priced below actual cost, to lure customers to the store, with the hope they'll buy other things on which the grocer makes a profit.

Back to the highways again for a couple of items. A "drive carefully" campaign is being stressed on the billboards of the Esso Standard Oil Co. It wants to save human lives. A similar drive is being pushed by the Remington Arms Co., Bridgeport, Conn. It wants to save the lives of young wildlife and says millions of pounds of valuable wildlife meat are wasted annually on American highways at this season. The business lesson in these might be that

CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

RAYBURN'S eyes clouded when Lia cried "If you'd only told me the truth!"

"When you were old enough to understand, it was too late. I'd lost you to him; or so I thought. He'd made you love him, and he loved you, too, in his own queer way, though that wouldn't have kept him from putting a bullet in you if you'd jeopardized his neck with your knowledge of what had happened to St. John. And for the sake of both you girls, my hands were tied. He was seeing that you got schooling and adequate care. That was more than I could have given you if I'd broken my pledge to him and taken you for myself."

He glanced at Hope. "That's why I tried to send you away when you came to the Tumblelocks and hunted me down. I couldn't deny our relationship, but I could offer you nothing—not even a home. The valley was a prison—then. Yet it did something to me to have you here, Hope—stirred up all the growing dissatisfaction of the years. I'd lost one daughter to Alessandro, but I had another. That's why I began to kick over the traces, begging Alessandro to release me from our old bargain and to let me leave this range and take you with me. And that's when he began scheming against me once more. When I'd outlived my usefulness, I was to be destroyed. I'm convinced that it was more than chance that sent Alessandro to the Bear Creek schoolhouse with St. John's body on the very night I was there. Probably he saw the note that one of his bullwhackers fetched me from you, Hope—the note that brought me to the schoolhouse that particular night."

He spread his hands in a simple gesture. "That's all there is to tell," he said.

Lia crossed over to him and laid her hand on his shoulder. "I think I understand," she said softly. "The best that could be had for both of us girls; that is what you wanted. The fortune that Alessandro won on a crooked card will be yours again; I'll see to that. And Jack and I shall be running the basin ranch. We'll always be near you, to make up for the years that were lost."

Rayburn took her hand. "I'll have land in the valley," he said. "All these years I've waited to be free of Forlorn, and now I know I'll never be happy anywhere else. That's part of the reason why I said this morning that Alessandro never took anything from me, really."

Hope crossed over to her father and sister, and Chip chose that moment to slip quietly from the room. Out upon the wide porch, he stood looking down upon the lights of Tumblelock town; and the door behind him opened and closed. That was Singin' Sam, he supposed, removing himself from the family reunion, but Chip didn't turn to look. Not until the door opened and closed once more, and he felt Hope's fingers upon his arm. She said softly, "And you, Chip—?"

"That depends," he said. "You wanted a man with both feet on the ground. I've told you about last night. Hope—how they hunted me across the basin like some wild beast. It made me do some thinking—about living and dying. And it made me want to live very much, to live quietly and peacefully, the way folks are supposed to live. But maybe the change came over me before that—maybe it started that first night when I woke up in the Bear Creek teacherage."

She said, "It doesn't much matter to me how you want to live, Chip. So long as I figure into the scheme somehow."

He drew in his breath sharply, and he took her into his arms and held her close. "I've got it all planned," he said. "There's land for the asking in Forlorn and cattle on Iron Hat Halliday's spread that wear my own brand. It will give us a fine tart, girl, and it will mean that we'll all be close together—you and I and your dad and Lia and Jack. Maybe even Singin' Sam."

Over in the shadows that cloaked the far end of the porch, Singin' Sam coughed, blew his nose vigorously, and started striding down the hill. . . .

No teetotaler, Singin' Sam McAllister was as wont to take a drink as the next man, but only when the work was done. He had come to the Tumblelocks with a mission to fulfill, and today had seen its completion. Accordingly, he made the rounds of the Tumblelock saloons, and there were celebrating Forlorners to hail him as a hero and buy the drinks for him, and he had wetted his luxuriant yellow moustache many times before an hour ran out.

But still there were a few last odds and ends to take care of, though the thought of them didn't trouble him greatly as he contemplated himself in a series of bar mirrors. But there was a heap of stolen horses to be re-shuffled in these here Tumblelocks, he reflected.

called. Him and Chip had certainly been handy with other people's cayuses, and they'd even left a stolen freight wagon on the back trail. He wondered if the governor might after all have to issue another pardon to cover the activities of himself and Chip on this trouble-shooting job.

He had a drink on the governor, and one on the house, then shaking himself free of the happy Forlorners, he wended his erratic way to the telegraph office. Here he drew a yellow form before him, addressed it to the governor of Montana, and penciled the following:

TURN LOOSE YOUR SETTLERS GOVERNOR STOP FORLORN VALLEY IS WIDE OPEN AND FEELING ITS OATS STOP DETAILED REPORT FOLLOWING BUT NOT TOO SOON STOP NEVER WAS NO HAND AT LETTER WRITING.

"Send 'er collect," he ordered the astonished telegrapher who counted the words. "And wait! Got another one for you."

The second blank, addressed to Iron Hat Halliday, read:

TOLD YOU I'D RAISE THAT KID OF YORN PROPER IF I WAS GIVEN ENOUGH TIME STOP HAPPY TO REPORT THAT CHIP IS ROPED, HOG-TIED AND READY FOR THE BRANDING IRON STOP BETTER GET YOUR TOWN SUIT OUT OF MOTHBALLS AND SLOPE OVER HERE FOR THE WEDDING.

Studying his effort, Sam wetted the pencil and added a postscript: P. S. AND BRING ALONG SOME COWS STOP ME AND CHIP IS STARTING US A RANCH IN FORLORN VALLEY AND I'M FOREMAN STOP RESIGNATION TO YOU FOLLOWING BY MAIL BUT NOT TOO SOON.

"Send that un collect too," Sam said and burst into song as he left the office:

Oh once in the saddle, I used to go dashin',
Oh once in the saddle, I used to be gay,
Got mixed up with drinkin' an' look to card playin',
Got shot through the belly, I'm dyin' today—
And so he was lurching down the street, weaving his unsteady way, and only those who knew him best could have gauged the high and happy state of his spirits by the sad and mournful song that poured from him. . . .

wrecked automobiles don't consume gasoline, and car-killed wildlife offer no targets for the guns and shells of hunters.

And a final cheerful note from the Cigar Institute of America. It says that more women than ever before are buying cigars. The institute thinks the cigars are intended as gifts for men, probably, and cites record sales of boxes now, apparently for Father's Day.

Sheriff Gives Warning About Unsafe Driving

Safety Council Is Urging Drivers to Exercise Care

"Slow down and take it easy!" This is the admonition of Sheriff Orland Hays in calling attention to the advice of the National Safety Council to motorists over the week-end holidays, and particularly the three-day Fourth of July holiday near at hand.

It is estimated that 33,000,000 motor vehicles will be traveling the nation's highways at some time during the three days, and special care should be used to prevent accidents.

In Fayette County during the three days, thousands of motor vehicles will use the main highways.

"Speeders lose!" Warned the safety council, which is coordinating a nationwide campaign against holiday accidents. The council said that speed contributes to one out of three fatal traffic accidents.

One hundred and thirty national organizations have joined in a united effort to curb accidents that bring tragedy to hundreds of Americans during the Independence Day celebration. The campaign is designed to increase public awareness of the extra holiday hazards and the extra caution needed to overcome them. It also seeks to help officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to hold down the Fourth of July death toll.

Urging public support of the campaign, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, pointed out that speed control is the personal responsibility of each driver.

"When it comes to holding down speed," he said, "the driver is responsible. A heavy foot on the throttle can only mean a heavy heart for someone when the traffic is as congested as it will be over the Fourth of July."

"The Fourth is a holiday that celebrates America's birth, and the occasion should make us eager to keep it from being a day of death. Remember that speeders lose, so take it easy on the fourth and be alive on the fifth!"

Mt. Sterling Resident Dies Monday Morning

Funeral services will be held at the E. T. Snyder Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling, Wednesday at 4 P. M. and burial will be made in the Mt. Sterling Cemetery.

Parking Meters Are Pronounced Success

Officials of London, one of the last towns in this part of Ohio to install parking meters, are delighted with the results after the first two days trial.

Not only has the parking problem been solved, but the meters in the first two days brought in $201.39.

County Courts

HEARING THURSDAY

Hearing of the case of the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., against James T. Perrill, and others, to appropriate property in connection with a right-of-way for the new 26 inch pipe line now being built across Ohio, will be heard Thursday, before Judge James F. Bell of London and a jury.

It is the first suit of its kind filed in the county, and much interest centers in the case.

DIVORCE WANTED

Claiming gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, Josie M. Martin has filed her petition in common pleas court, asking for a divorce from Earl Martin to whom she was married May 3, 1931, in Lucas County, West Virginia. The parties have four children.

Temporary alimony, possession of household goods, and restraining order also are asked by the plaintiff, who is represented by Clark Wickensimer.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Edith M. Ryan, asking for a divorce from Sherman R. Ryan, in a suit filed in common pleas court, charges gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. The parties were married Nov. 12, 1929 and plaintiff states she has been forced to work to support herself and family, and has paid practically all on the property where they reside. Custody of a minor child and alimony also are sought. Ray R. Maddox represents Mrs. Ryan.

Pedestrians Have Inning In City Now

"Stop for Pedestrians!"

This is the title of a four-page folder issued by City Manager W. W. Hill which is being passed out by police to drivers who fail to obey the law relative to pedestrians.

The little folder says in part; "State Law, Sec. 6307.45; It shall be the duty of the operator of any vehicle to yield the right of way to a pedestrian lawfully crossing the roadway within any crosswalk."

Sec. 6307.13 provides that when light turns green traffic may proceed, but shall yield right-of-way to vehicles and pedestrians lawfully within the intersection -- which means that the pedestrian who has lawfully started to cross the street within the crosswalk, has the prior right-of-way to proceed across the street."

There is a growing tendency upon the part of some motorists to force pedestrians to yield their lawful right-of-way, and police are taking cognizance of such drivers.

The Old Home Town

By Stanley

Good Hope Man

Straley's automobile to Greenfield Thursday afternoon, where he met Gregg and proceeded to the R. E. Heffner home in Bell Hollow, southeastern Highland County.

Everhart told officers that they attempted to get Burton Stutz who resides with Heffner, to go with them to "pull the job." At the Heffner home was Oliver (Jobber) Carter, Jr., described as the ring leader of the group.

Everhart and Gregg drove to the Gibson home, and Everhart drew the two men away from the house while Gregg went inside.

Gregg went inside and apparently started beating Mrs. Gibson, but her screams attracted the attention of a neighbor, Mrs. Henrietta Bennett, who ran to the house.

Gregg ran out of the house and disappeared in a woods, where he was to meet Carter.

Meanwhile, Everhart became alarmed and sought to escape in the Straley automobile, but in backing up a narrow lane the car went into a ditch and Everhart could not remove it.

Other neighbors came to the scene and Everhart was held until officers arrived. Carter and Gregg escaped, and are still at large.

The Gibson family had about $900 in their home, and the trio was endeavoring to obtain this by forcing the aged woman to tell where it was, officers state.
